Book Club

Featuring 19 of the finest works from the most distinguished writers in the American short-story tradition, this new compilation begins with Nathaniel Hawthorne's 1835 tale "Young Goodman Brown" and ranges across an entire century, concluding with Ernest Hemingway's 1927 classic, "The Killers." Other selections include Poe's "The Tell-Tale Heart," Melville's "Bartleby," Harte's "The Luck of Roaring Camp," "To Build a Fire," by Jack London, "The Real Thing" by Henry James, F. Scott Fitzgerald's "Bernice Bobs Her Hair," plus stories by Mark Twain, Sarah Orne Jewett, Charles Chesnutt, Kate Chopin, Stephen Crane, Willa Cather, Ambrose Bierce, Theodore Dreiser, and others.

Book Club will be held on October 11th at noon! We hope to see you!

Storytime: Tuesdays at 10:30!

Hey kids! Don't forget about me! I love being read to! Come meet me and read me a story, or two!

Local Authors' Books For Sale!

Having grown up as the son of the last private owner of Bonneyville Mills in Northern Indiana, Carl Mauck and his sister Carol Jean had an idyllic childhood there. Although there have been numerous articles in newspapers and periodicals through the years, no writer has ever told the complete story or done justice to the lives of the men and women who have kept Bonneyville so vivid in the minds and hearts of the residents of Elkhart County and Northern Indiana. Even in a biography preface of Edward Bonney, who built the Mill in 1837, there was no mention of Bonney's life in "our" Bonneyville. This book which compiles and shares previously unpublished photos and information about the Mill, is dedicated to the families who worked there and the hardships they endured, as well as the men and women who have devoted years to making the property the wonderful county park it is today.

Roger's Romance with Food

Roger Hennessy has always had a love for food. He was enlisted in the Navy, and assigned to the USS Coral Sea. There he worked in the mess hall and cooked for sailors on the ship. When he was discharged from the navy, he worked at a couple of steak restaurants in Florida. About 10 years ago, he realized that his dream was to go to Culinary school. There He learned the finer points of cooking. He has been a grill cook, a sous chef, and the head chef in a French restaurant. This cookbook is his other dream! In it, you will find all his recipes and the favorite recipes of friends and family!
