The Charlotte Scarborough Taylor Workbooks:

THE JEWEL IN THE CROWN OF CHARLOTTE COUNTY HISTORY SERVICES COLLECTIONS

Saved from the scrap pile in 1964, two extremely rare workbooks dating to the mid-1800s were donated by a Punta Gorda Library volunteer. These workbooks were painted by Charlotte Scarborough Taylor, one of the earliest female entomologists in the Americas, and are now bound together in one volume.

This amazing book has many stories to tell. Come listen to the stories and find out more about these extraordinary workbooks, the woman who made them, and her unique connection to the area!
